"The froit of much thoughtful investigation is presented to us in the character of 'Paul Ferroll." "We do not need to be told how he feit and why he acted thus and thus, it will be obvious to most minds from the very opening p.gas; but the power of the siory is not weakened by this early knowledge; rather is it hightened, since the artistic force of contrast is grand and tearful in the two figures who cling so close y together in their fond human love."

From The Home Jours al, May 24 I has been whispered that Mr. BONNER, the I has occur with provided a provided of the NEW-YORK LEDJER, evines a species of "madness" in keeping up such an immense outlay in the way of advertising his paper! If so, there is ad nirable the way of advertising his paper? If so, there is admirable "method in his madness," which has succeeded in increasing his subscription list to one hundred thousand. The truth is, Benner is a regular member of the "craft," and feels a professional philanthropy toward the whole fraternity. There are no "metes and bounds" to his enterprise, so that it may well be jeared, from present indications, that he will soon monopolize all the Poet-Office Department—as he does, already, a great shere of it. Among its regular contributors are, on the male side, several well-known romance writers; and on the other conditions that the side is the attractive pen of the most popular and always better side, the attractive pen of the most popular authoress of the day.

The reprint of two good jadges, says the Boston Daily Journal. "for mirthful, genial humor, unalloyed with bitterner, this book is unravised. We have read it and languaged over it with unmingled delight. Its fun is genume and intrinsic, not owing to any trick of expression or presence of eccentricity. The good this is, and the book is full of them, are said with apparent, in temperatures and with a American section. The good this is, and the book is that no disposition to make the most of them. Occasionally a most poetical bit of description is introduced showing what the suther could do in a different field. The concluding chapter furnishs a most convincing plea for the coursy. But the book is already to repoplar to need come endation." THE CAMPAIGN TRIBUNE 1856.

Shall Slavery "pour itself out without restraint, and find no

ten years ago by Henry A. Wise, now Governor of the chief six ebreeding State, and an aspirant to show how "Black Republicans" should be ruled from the Presidential Chair. More recently, Senator Toombe predicted that he would yet live to call the roll of his slaves from Bunker Hill Monument, and hi the shadow of that Monument, on the blessings of Bondage an the natural antegonism between Liberty and Labor, months past, the country has witnessed a race between Pie Dongles, Buchanan, and their less conspicuous competitors for iengest in their subserviency to the Slavery Propaganda, and so procure its overmastering support to secure that nomination. Every sign indicates that the long process o, debanching and degrading that which vanuts itself the Demo cratic party is there to be completed, and the transformation of what remains of that party into a mere convenience and instrument of the Slave Power is now to be consummated. Already ated as fantasies by the pretended followers of the author of that immertal manifesto—the noble affirmation that "All men are created equal" is frittered away into a mere assertion that all men of one color are entitled to freedom, while those of a different hue are consigned to the bitterness and debasement of pound hypothetically the doctrine that no State can shield her soil from the withering tread of the slaveholder and his human chartels—that a vaguely defined inter-State comity should be permitted to override the most positive statutes, based aithe on Divine injunction and natural human ight. Already the Federal Judiciary ventures to affirm the children born on the free soil of Illinois and Nebraska may, in defance of the Ordinance of '87 and the Restriction of 1820, be legally carried into eternal bondage in Missouri. Already, the Kames and Griers and Leavitts evince their readiness to pros-trate every attribute of State severeignty at the footstool of the Moloch whose altars overshadow the sunnier half of the Mode Republic, and whose human sacrifices send up a million prayers nightly to the God of the oppressed and helpless from the "old fields" of Virginia, from the rice-awamps of Carolina, from the

with the music of the pioneer's ax as cabin after cabin is reared as a temporary home for the children from among whom her fa-ture legislators and governors are to be chosen. The plow is turning up her virgin soil and the blithe sower preparing to scat-ter his seed, while the carpenter and mason are putting up the rude structures which must serve for both churches and school. onses through a brief season. On either hand the hum of bus houses through a prier season. On extent and the annot due to take the term at the priest and the fettered children of Ham are being marched in to the melancholy clauk of their own chains—the coffs and the slave whip are hurrying forward their unwelcome contributions to the peopling of that nfant State—the broad, slovenly plantation with its negro quarters and its stern police, is beginning to take its place and proclaim its estimate of labor and the laborer side by side with the pioneer's quarter-section and to cable. A sham Legislature, imposed on Kanasa by Missouri conspiracy, invasion, and gigantic corruption of the polis, has pretended to legalize Slav and prantical sales and impose on her a tyrannical and bloody code in full conformity there with. This impudent, blasphemous code. which assumes to declare any questioning of the legitimacy of Slavery in Kanses a felony, and to punish any overt resistance to its mandates with death, is upheld as valid and binding by the President, his supporters in Congress and his functionaries in Kansas. The attempts of the great body of the People of Kan-sas to free themselves from this incubus and reestablish the supremacy of Liberty and Impartial Justice for All, are treated as rebellion by these Federal dignitaries, and those who added in the organization of a Free-State Government are gravely in the organisation of a Pre-Guard Whoever thoughfully threatened with the penalties of treason. Whoever thoughfully contemplates the history of Kansas, and closely scans its geo-graphical position, must realize that here the great controversy respecting the Extension or Non-Extension of Slavery must be fought out. With Kansas Free, there can be no Slave State formed north or west of her, and all that the Missouri Compact pledged to Freedom is secured, without embarraming tions with or tacit obligations as to Slavery south of the jine. With Kansas Free, the whole North-West is Free for ever, and our attention may be turned without apprehension to the fertile prairies of Northern Texas and the intrigues to ex-tend our cane-fields to the Sierra Madre, preparatory to the ab-sorption of all Maxico. With Kaness Free, we may put Slavery on the defensive and say to its propagandists, "Thus far and n

Bondage in our National Councils is suspended, in all human probability, on the issues of 1855.

The Trister, therefore, will devote its best efforts to the support of Free Kansas, and to the election of a President and Congress who will sympathize in her trials and joy in her deliverance. It surrenders none of the convictions by which it has hitherto been guided—it stands to day as hitherto on the side of Protection to Home Industry by carefully discriminated Dutle on Imports—for River and Harbor Improvements, and a Na tional Road (as the pioneer of many) to the Pacific—for Rerenchment and Z conomy in the Federal Expenditures, devoting a far larger share of the National income to Science, Improve-ment and the Arts of Peace, with a proportional subtraction from the annual outlay for warlike equipment and enginery-for Temperance, and Liquor Prohibition—for the melioration of fusion of social blessings—but, before all and above all, it will labor immediately to make Kansas unquestionably and securely a Free State. To this and, it will render the heartlest support to whome ever shall be presented by the Republican National Convention at Philadelphia, next June, as candidates for Presi dent and Vice-President, confident that they will be capable worthy and faithful to Kanese and Liberty.

We propose to issue a CAMPAIGN TRIBUNE for five months, commencing with the proceedings of the Philadelphia Convention, on June 17, and ending (we hope) with the record of the election of its candidates about Nov. 12. Atd, to insure of the election of its canonical spout. The value of the third shall be something more than a mere dy-sheet, we propose to issue it TWICE A WEFK, and of the full size of our Dally, Weekly and Semi-Weekly editions. We shall thus be able to give all the news of the day, with the best Specches in Congress or elecuhers, Addresses, classrate Documents, and full details of all Elections and Political Movements throughout this event. fol cauvass. There will be a great many cheap Week y issues for the Campaign, with which we prefer not to compete nor in-terfere, while we publish at the lowest undurable price one which shall serve as an Encyclopedia of the Canvass and be reanded by speakers, committee men, and active workers for the Right, as a text-book and monitor. We ask those who believe such a paper will do good to aid us in extending its circulation.
